11. Right to apply for a patent.

Where a person, either alone or jointly with another, makes an invention that satisfies the requirements of sections 8 and 9 of this Act, he or she may make an application for a patent under this Act either alone or jointly with another.

(4) Where a patent is vested in the employer by virtue of subsection (3) of this section the employee shall be entitled to equitable remuneration which, in the absence of agreement between the parties, shall be fixed by the Court taking into account his or her emoluments, the economic value of the invention and any benefit derived from it by the employer.

(3) Each divisional application shall be accorded the filing date and, where applicable, the priority date, of the initial application.

(4) The fact that a patent has been granted on an application that did not comply with the requirement of unity of invention under subsection (1) of this section shall not be a ground for the invalidation of the patent.

18. Amendment of application.

The applicant may, at any time before a patent is granted, amend the application, but the amendment shall not include any matter which was not disclosed in the initial application as filed.

19. Joint applicants.

on his or her own behalf and on behalf of any other joint applicant, take such step without recourse to the other applicant or applicants.

20. Right of priority.

(1) An applicant for a patent may, as provided for in the Paris Convention, contain a declaration claiming priority of one or more earlier national, regional or international applications filed by an applicant or his or her predecessor in title

- (d) a copy of any final decision invalidating the patent granted on the basis of the foreign application referred to in subsection (1) of this section.

(3) Paragraphs (a) and (c) of subsection (2) of this section shall not apply where the Office of the Registrar is an elected office within the meaning of section 55 of this Act and has received or will receive an international preliminary examination report.

- (4) Any document furnished pursuant to the provisions of this section.
- (a) shall, if not in English, be accompanied by a translation of the document in English verified by the translator that the translation is to the best of his or her knowledge complete and true; and
 - (b) may be used only for facilitating the evaluation of the novelty and inventive step of the invention for which the patent application is made.

23. Disclosure of matter etc., between earlier and later applications.

Where an application is made for a patent under section 16 of this Act, and a declaration is made in accordance with the provisions of subsection (1) of section 20 of this Act, in or in connection with that application specifying an earlier application, the first-mentioned application and any patent granted in pursuance thereof shall not be invalidated by reason only of the fact that any subject matter disclosed in the earlier application was made available to the public at anytime after the date of filing the earlier application.

24. Date of filing application.

(1) The Registrar shall accord as the filing date of an application for a patent the date of receipt of the application, so long as, at the time of receipt of the application, the following requirements are satisfied, that is to say,

- (a) the documents filed contain an express or implied indication that a patent is sought in pursuance of the application;
- (b) the documents filed identify the applicant or applicants for the patent;
- (c) the documents filed contain a description of the invention for which a patent is sought.

(2) Where the applicant's application does not satisfy the requirements of subsection (1) of this section, the Registrar shall accordingly inform the applicant in writing and, subject to the provisions of section 18 of this Act, shall invite him or her to

Revision Date: 31 Dec 2002

(3) Where the applicant fails to make the amendment referred to in subsection (2) of this section, the application shall be treated as if it had not been filed.

(4) Where an application for a patent refers to drawings which are not included in the application, the Registrar shall invite the applicant to furnish the missing drawings and, if the applicant complies, the Registrar shall accord as the filing date of the application, the date of receipt of the missing drawings.

(5) Where the applicant fails to comply with the provisions of subsection (4) of this section, the Registrar shall accord as the filing date of the application, the date of receipt of the application and shall treat any reference to the said drawings as non-existent.

25. Examination.

After according a filing date, and if the application is not withdrawn, the Registrar shall examine the application to determine whether

- (a) it satisfies the requirements of subsections (1), (2), (3) and (10) of section 16 of this Act and the regulations pertaining thereto;

- (c) it complies with the requirements of the regulations as prescribed by the regulations to be formal requirements; and
- (d) information requested under section 22, if any, has been provided.

26. Refusal or grant of patent.

(1) Subject to the provisions of subsections (2), (3) and (4) of section 24 of this Act, where the Registrar is not satisfied that the requirements of this Act and the regulations made under this Act have been satisfied or complied with, as the case may be, he or she shall refuse the application, and shall accordingly inform the applicant in writing, stating the reasons for the refusal.

(2) Where two or more applications for a patent, having the same filing date or the same priority date, are made in respect of the same invention and filed by the same applicant or his or her successor in title, the Registrar may, on that ground, refuse to grant a patent in respect of more than one of the applications.

(3) Where the Registrar refuses any one of the applications referred to under subsection (2) of this section he or she shall, in writing, accordingly inform the applicant, stating the reasons for his or her refusal.

(4) Where the Registrar is satisfied that the application, as originally filed or as amended, complies with the requirements of section 25 of this Act, he or she shall grant the applicant a patent.

(5) Where the Registrar grants a patent, he or she shall

- (a) publish in the Gazette a notice of the grant of the patent;
- (b) issue a certificate of the grant of the patent and a copy of the patent to the applicant; and
- (c) record the patent in the Register.

(6) The Registrar shall, on payment of the prescribed fee, make a copy of any patent granted under this section available to any person who requests such copy.

(7) The Registrar shall, upon the request of the patentee, amend the text or drawings of the patent in order to limit the extent of the protection conferred by the patent, if the amendment would not result in the disclosure contained in the patent going beyond the disclosure contained in the initial application on the basis of which the patent was granted.

(8) The patent shall be deemed to be granted on the date on which the Registrar publishes a notice of the grant of the patent.

PART VI – PROVISIONS AS TO PATENTS AFTER GRANT

27. Duration and maintenance of patent.

(1) Subject to subsection (2) of this section, a patent shall expire twenty years after the filing date of the application for the patent.

(1) Any person who claims to have acquired property in an application for a patent or a patent by virtue of any transaction to which this section applies shall be entitled as against any other person who claims to have acquired that property by virtue of an earlier transaction to which this section applies if, at the time of the later transaction,

- (a) the earlier transaction was not registered; or
- (b) in the case of an application for a patent, notice of the earlier transaction had not been given to the Registrar; and
- (c) in any other case, the person claiming under the later transaction did not know of the earlier transaction.

(2) Subsection (1) of this section shall apply equally to the case where any person claims to have acquired any right in an application for a patent or under a patent by virtue of a transaction to which this section applies, and that right shall be incompatible with the right acquired by virtue of an earlier transaction to which this section applies.

(3) This section shall apply to the following transactions, that is to say,

- (a) the assignment of an application for a patent or patents or a right in either of them, as the case may be;

 - (ii) that an application should proceed in the name of any person; and in either case, the event by virtue of which the court or authority had power to make the order or give the directions.

(4) Where an application for the registration of a transaction is made, while the transaction is not yet registered, registration of the application shall, for the purposes of subsection (1)(a) of this section, be treated as registration of the transaction.

(5) For the purposes of this section, “transaction” includes an instruction and an event.

(6) An assignment of an application for a patent, a patent, or a share in either of them, as the case may be, and an exclusive licence granted under any of them, as the case may be, may confer on the assignee or licensee the right of the assignor or licensor to bring proceedings by virtue of the provisions of section 50 of this Act for a previous infringement.

31. Joint ownership of patents.

(1) Where a patent is granted to two or more persons jointly, each of the patentees shall, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, be entitled to an equal undivided share in the patent.

(2) Subject to the provisions of subsection (4) of this section, a joint patentee shall not, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, and in the absence of the consent of the joint patentee or patentees, be entitled to

- (a) make use, exercise, or dispose of the patented invention;

- (b) grant a licence or assign or mortgage the whole or any part of his or her interest in the patent; or

(4) Any joint patentee may institute proceedings for infringement of the patent and, if he or she does so, he or she shall give notice of the proceedings to the other joint patentee, who may, on notification, intervene as co-plaintiff and recover any damages in respect of any damage he or she may have suffered as a result of the infringement of the patent.

PART VIII – RIGHTS OF OWNER OF PATENT

32. Rights conferred by a patent.

(1) No person, other than the patentee, shall exploit a patented invention in Saint Christopher and Nevis without the patentee's authority.

- (2) For the purposes of this section, exploiting a patented invention means,
- (a) where the patent is granted in respect of a product,
 - (i) making, importing, offering for sale, selling, and using it into Saint Christopher and Nevis; and

- (d) the extemporaneous preparation for individual cases, in a pharmacy, of a medicine in accordance with a medical prescription or acts concerning the medicine so prepared; or
- (e) acts performed by any person who was, in good faith, while in Saint Christopher and Nevis, before the filing date or where priority is claimed, the priority date of the application on which the patent is granted, using the invention or making effective and serious preparation for such use.

(5) The right of prior user referred to in paragraph (e) of subsection (4) of this section may be transferred or devolve only together with the enterprise or business, or with that part of the enterprise or business in which the use or preparations for use have been made.

33. Right to continue use begun before date of filing or priority.

(1) Where a patent is granted, a person who, before the date of filing the application for a patent or, if priority was claimed, the date of priority, in good faith, while in Saint Christopher and Nevis, does an act which would constitute an infringement of the patent if it were then in force, or, in good faith, makes effective and serious preparations to do such an act, shall have the rights specified in subsection (2) of this section.

- (2) The rights referred to in subsection (1) shall be the following, namely,
 - (a) to continue to do or, as the case may be, to do that act himself or herself;
 - (b) if the act was done or preparations had been made to do it in the course of a business,
 - (i) to assign the right referred to in paragraph (a) of this subsection;
 - (ii) to transmit the right referred to in paragraph (a) of this subsection to his or her heirs upon his or her death or, in the case of a body corporate, on its dissolution, to any person who acquires that part of the business in the course of which the act was done or preparations had been made to do it;
 - (iii) to authorise the act to be done by any partners of his or her for the time being in that business; and the doing of that act by virtue of the provisions of this subsection shall not amount to an infringement of the patent concerned.

(3) The rights specified in subsection (2) of this section shall not include the right to grant a licence to any person to do an act referred to in subsection (1) of this section.

(4) Where a product which is the subject of a patent is disposed of by any person to another in exercise of a right conferred by subsection (2) of this section, the recipient of the product or a person claiming through him or her may deal with the product in the same way as if it had been disposed of by a sole owner of the patent.

34. Exploitation by Government or person authorised thereby.

(1) Where

- (a) the public interest, in particular, National Security, Nutrition, Health, or the development of other vital sectors of the national economy so requires; or
- (b) the Minister has determined that the manner of exploitation, by the owner of the patent or his or her licensee, is anti-competitive, and he or she is satisfied that the exploitation of the invention in accordance with this subsection would remedy such practice;

the Minister may decide that, even without the agreement of the owner of the patent, a Government agency or a third person designated by the Ministry may exploit the invention.

(2) The exploitation of the patented invention shall be limited to the purpose for which it was authorised and shall be subject to the payment to the said owner of an adequate remuneration therefor, taking into account the economic value of the Minister's authorisation, as determined in the said decision, and, where a decision has been taken under subsection 1(b), the need to correct anti-competitive practices.

(3) The Minister shall make his or her decision after hearing the owner of the patent and any interested person.

(4) A request for the Minister's authorisation to exploit a patented invention shall be accompanied by evidence that the owner of the patent has received, from the person seeking the authorisation, a request for a contractual licence, but that that person has been unable to obtain such a licence on reasonable commercial terms and conditions and within a reasonable time.

(5) Subsection (4) of this section shall not apply in cases of

- (a) national emergency or other circumstances of extreme urgency provided, however, that in such cases the owner of the patent shall be notified of the Minister's decision as soon as reasonably practicable.
- (b) public non-commercial use; and
- (c) anti-competitive practices determined as such by the Minister in accordance with subsection (1)(b) of this section.

(6) The exploitation of a patented invention in the field of semi-conductor technology shall only be authorised for public non-commercial use or where a judicial or administrative body has determined that the manner of exploitation of the patented invention, by the owner of the patent or his or her licensee, is anti-competitive, and if the

Revision Date: 31 Dec 2002

Minister is satisfied that the issuance of the non-voluntary licence would remedy such practice.

- (7) The authorisation shall not exclude
 - (a) the conclusion of license contracts by the owner of the patent;
 - (b) the continued exercise, by the owner of the patent, of his or her rights under section 33(2); or
 - (c) the grant of a non-voluntary licence under section 38 of this Act.

(8) Where a third person has been designated by the Minister, the authorisation may only be transferred with the enterprise or business of that person or with the part of the enterprise or business within which the patented invention is being exploited.

(9) The exploitation of the patented invention by the Government agency or third person designated by the Minister shall be predominantly for the supply of the market in Saint Christopher and Nevis.

(10) Upon the request of the owner of the patent, of the Government agency or of the third person authorised to exploit the patented invention, the Minister may, after hearing the parties, vary the terms of the decision authorising the exploitation of the patented invention to the extent that changed circumstances justify such variation.

(11) Upon the request of the owner of the patent, the Minister shall terminate the authorisation if he or she is satisfied, after hearing the parties, that the circumstances which led to his or her decision have ceased to exist and are unlikely to recur, or that the Government agency or third person designated by him or her has failed to comply with the terms of the decision.

(12) Notwithstanding subsection (11) of this section, the Minister shall not terminate the authorisation if he or she is satisfied that the need for adequate protection of the legitimate interests of the Government agency or third person designated by him or her justifies the maintenance of the decision.

35. Prevention of indirect use of invention.

(1) While in force, a patent shall confer, on its owner, the right to prevent all persons not having his or her authorisation, from supplying or offering to supply in Saint Christopher and Nevis, a person (other than a person entitled to engage in commercial working of the patented invention) with means relating to an essential element of that invention, for putting it into effect therein, provided that the person knows, or it is obvious to a reasonable person in the circumstances that those means are suitable for putting, and are intended to put, that invention into effect.

(2) The provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall not apply where the means referred to therein are staple commercial products, except where the person induces the person supplied to commit acts which the owner of the patent is entitled to prevent by virtue of section 33 of this Act.

(3) Any person who commits an act referred to in paragraph (c) or (d) of section 33.(4) of this Act shall not be considered to be a person entitled to engage in commercial working of the invention for the purposes of subsection (1) of this section.

PART IX – VOLUNTARY AND NON-VOLUNTARY LICENCES

36. Voluntary licences.

(1) Subject to section 33 of this Act, a proprietor of a patent application or patent may grant a licence in respect of the relevant invention.

(2) A licence contract concerning an application for a patent or patents shall be filed with the Registrar in writing and may, on payment of the prescribed fee, be recorded in the register and the relevant notice published in a periodical as prescribed by the rules.

(3) Until the contract referred to in subsection (2) of this section has been so recorded, the licence shall have no effect against third parties, unless otherwise decided by the Court.

(4) In the absence of any provision to the contrary in the terms of a licence contract, a licensee shall not extend to another person the authorisation conferred on him or her by the owner in accordance with subsection (1) of this section, nor shall he or she assign or mortgage his or her licence.

(5) In the absence of any provision to the contrary in the terms of a licence contract, the patentee may continue to enjoy the rights conferred on him or her by sections 33 and 36 of this Act.

(6) To the extent that the licence is granted as an exclusive licence, the patentee may not grant a licence in respect of the invention to a third person and may not himself or herself do any of the acts referred to in sections 33 and 36 of this Act.

(7) If, before the expiration of the licence contract, any of the following events occur with respect to any patent application or patent, the subject of that contract,

- (a) the patent application is withdrawn or is deemed to be withdrawn;
- (b) the patent application is treated as if it had not been filed;
- (c) the grant of a patent is refused; or
- (d) the patent is revoked, the licensee shall, from the date of the event, no longer be bound to make any payment directly relating to that patent application or patent.

(8) In any of the cases referred to in subsection (7) of this section, the licensee shall have the right to repayment of the payments already made and directly relating to the patent application or patent in question, provided he or she has not benefited from the licence.

37. Non-voluntary licences.

(1) At any time after the expiration of four years from the date of grant of a patent under this Act or three years from the date of the filing, whichever is later, any person interested may apply to the Court for the grant of a non-voluntary licence under the patent on the grounds that the patented invention is not being exploited or is being insufficiently exploited by working the invention in Saint Christopher and Nevis, or by importation into Saint Christopher and Nevis.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) of this section, a non-voluntary licence shall not be issued if the patentee satisfies the Court that circumstances exist which justify the non-exploitation or insufficient exploitation of the patented invention in Saint Christopher and Nevis.

- (3) The Court shall, where it grants a non-voluntary licence, fix
- (a) the scope and function of the licence;
 - (b) the time limit within which the licensee must begin to exploit the patented invention; and
 - (c) the amount of the remuneration to be paid to the patentee, and the conditions of the payment thereof.
- (4) The beneficiary of the non-voluntary licence shall
- (a) have the right to exploit the patented invention in Saint Christopher and Nevis in accordance with the Court's order;
 - (b) commence the exploitation of the patented invention within the time stipulated in the said order; and
 - (c) thereafter, exploit the patented invention sufficiently.

(5) Where the invention claimed in a patent, referred to in this section as a "later patent", cannot be exploited in Saint Christopher and Nevis without infringing a patent granted on the basis of an application benefiting from an earlier filing, or, where appropriate, priority date, referred to in this section as an "earlier patent", and if the invention claimed in the later patent involves an important technical advance of considerable economic importance in relation to the invention claimed in the earlier patent, the Court may, upon the application of the owner of the later patent, issue a non-voluntary licence to the extent necessary to avoid infringement of the earlier patent.

(6) Where a non-voluntary licence is issued in accordance with subsection (5) of this section, the court shall, upon the application of the owner of the earlier patent, issue a non-voluntary licence in respect of the later patent.

(7) In the case of an application for the issuance of a non-voluntary licence in accordance with subsections (4) and (5) of this section, subsection (2) of this section shall apply mutatis mutandis, except that the Court need not fix any time limit.

(8) In the case of a non-voluntary licence issued under subsection (1) of this section, the transfer shall only be made with the later patent, and, in the case of a non-voluntary licence issued under subsection (5) of this section, only with the earlier patent.

(9) An application for a non-voluntary licence shall be subject to payment of the prescribed fee.

(10) No licence shall be granted under this section in respect of a patented invention in the field of semi-conductor technology.

(11) Subsections (2), (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), (8), (9), (10), (11) and (12), of section 35, and section 62(2) of this Act shall, mutatis mutandis, apply.

38. Exercise of powers on applications under section 46.

The powers of the Court on an application under section 46 shall be exercised with a view to securing that the inventor or other person beneficially entitled to a patent receives reasonable remuneration having regard to the economic value of the licence.

PART X – INFRINGEMENT

39. Infringement.

Subject to the provisions of sections 33.(4), 35 and 38 of this Act, the performance, in relation to a patent, of any act referred to in sections 33 and 36 of this Act without the authorisation of the patentee shall, while it is in force, constitute an infringement of the patent.

40. Action for infringement.

(1) The patentee shall, in addition to any other right, remedy or action available to him or her, have the right, subject to sections 33.(4), 35, 38 and 42 of this Act, to institute Court proceedings against any person who infringes the patent by performing, without his or her authorisation, any of the acts referred to in section 33(2) of this Act or who performs acts which make it likely that infringement will occur.

(2) A plaintiff in proceedings for infringement shall be entitled to relief by way of

- (a) an injunction restraining the defendant from any apprehended act of infringement;
- (b) an order for him or her to deliver up or destroy any patented product in relation to which the patent is infringed or any article in which that product is inextricably comprised;
- (c) damages in respect of the infringement;
- (d) an account of the profits derived by him or her from the infringement;
- (e) any other relief provided for in the general law.

Revision Date: 31 Dec 2002

(3) The Court shall not, in awarding damages under this section, also order, in respect of the same infringement, that the plaintiff be given an account of the profits derived from the infringement.

(4) In any proceedings for infringement, the defendant may counterclaim for the invalidation of the patent and, by way of defence, rely upon any ground on which a patent may be invalidated.

(5) In any proceedings under this section, the plaintiff shall, before instituting the proceedings, give notice thereof to every licensee under the patent in question whose name is recorded in the Register, and the licensee shall be entitled to intervene as co-plaintiff.

(6) Where a licensee requests the owner of a title of protection granted under this Act to institute court proceedings for a specific relief and the owner fails to do so, the licensee may bring an action under this section and the Court shall grant any relief specified in subsection (2) or any other relief provided for in the general law.

(7) In any proceedings for infringement, other than criminal proceedings, where the subject matter of the patent is a process for obtaining a product, the burden of establishing that the product was not made by the process shall rest on the defendant if

- (a) the product is new; or
- (b) a substantial likelihood exists that the product was made using another process and the patentee has been unable, through reasonable efforts, to determine the process used.

(8) In requiring the production of evidence in respect of subsection (7) of this section, the Court shall take into account the legitimate interests of the defendant in not disclosing his or her manufacturing and business secrets.

(9) The Court shall, in awarding damages under this section, calculate such damages taking into account the amount of a reasonable royalty which would have been payable by a licensee or sub-licensee in respect of the patent concerned.

41. Restriction on recovery of damages for infringement.

(1) In proceedings for infringement of a patent, damages shall not be awarded, and no order shall be made for an account of profits, against a defendant who proves that at the date of the infringement he or she was not aware, and had no reasonable grounds for supposing that the patent existed, and a person shall not be taken to have been so aware or to have had reasonable grounds for so supposing by reason only of the application to a product of the word "patent" or "patented", or any word or words expressing or implying that a patent has been obtained for the product, unless the number of the patent accompanied the word or words in question.

(2) Where an amendment of the specification of a patent is allowed under any of the provisions of this Act, no damages shall be awarded in proceedings for an infringement of the patent committed before the decision to allow the amendment unless the Court is satisfied that the specification of the patent as published was framed in good faith and with reasonable skill and knowledge.

42. Relief for infringement of partially valid patent.

(1) If the validity of a patent is put in issue in proceedings for infringement of the patent and it is found that the patent is only partially valid, the Court may, subject to subsection (2) of this section, grant relief in respect of that part of the patent which is found to be valid and infringed.

(2) Where, in the proceedings referred to in subsection (1) of this section, it is found that a patent is only partially valid, the Court shall not grant relief by way of damages, costs of expenses, except where the plaintiff proves that the specification for the patent was framed in good faith and with reasonable skill and knowledge and in that event the Court may grant relief in respect of that part of the patent which is valid and infringed, subject to the discretion of the Court as to costs or expenses and as to the date from which damages should be reckoned.

(3) As a condition of relief under this section the Court may direct that the specification of the patent shall be amended to its satisfaction upon an application made for that purpose under section 63, and an application may be so made accordingly, whether or not all other issues in the proceedings have been determined.

43. Certificate of contested validity of patent.

(1) Where in any proceedings before the Court the validity of a patent to any extent is contested and that patent is found by the Court to be wholly or partially valid, the Court may certify the finding and the fact that the validity of the patent was so contested.

(2) Where a certificate is granted under this section, then, if in any subsequent proceedings before the Court for infringement of the patent concerned or for revocation of the patent a final order or judgment is made or given in favour of the party relying on the validity of the patent as found in the earlier proceedings, that party shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, be entitled to his or her costs or expenses as between attorney-at-law and client, other than the costs of expenses of any appeal in the subsequent proceedings.

44. Proceedings for infringement by exclusive licensee.

(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, the holder of an exclusive licence under a patent shall have the same right as the owner of the patent to bring proceedings in respect of any infringement of the patent committed after the date of the licence, and references to the patentee in this Act relating to infringement shall be construed accordingly.

(2) In awarding damages or granting any other relief in the proceedings the Court shall take into consideration any loss suffered or likely to be suffered by the exclusive licensee as such as a result of the infringement, or, as the case may be, the profits derived from the infringement, so far as it constitutes an infringement of the rights of the exclusive licensee as such.

(3) In any proceedings taken by an exclusive licensee by virtue of this section, the patentee shall be made a party to the proceedings, except that a defendant shall not be liable for any costs or expenses unless he or she enters an appearance and takes part in the proceedings.

45. Effect of non-registration on infringement proceedings.

Where by virtue of a transaction, instrument or event to which section 35 applies, a person becomes the owner or one of the owners or an exclusive licensee of a patent and the patent is subsequently infringed, the Court shall not award him or her damages or order

that he or she be given an account of the profits in respect of the subsequent infringement occurring before the transaction, instrument or event is registered unless

- (a) the transaction, instrument or event is registered within a period of six months beginning with its date; or
- (b) the Court is satisfied that it was not practicable to register the transaction, instrument or event before the end of that period, and that it was registered as soon as was practicable thereafter.

PART XI – REVOCATION OF PATENT

46. Application for revocation of patent.

(1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Court may, on the application of any interested party, revoke a patent on any of the following grounds:

- (a) that the invention is not an invention as defined in this Act;
- (b) that the patent concerned is not patentable under section 7 or does not satisfy the requirements of sections 8.(1), (2) and (3), and sections 9 and 10;
- (c) that the invention is a matter which should, in accordance with section 11, have been excluded from patent protection;
- (d) that the patent was granted to a person who was not entitled thereto under section 13 or 14, as the case may be;
- (e) that the patentee's application did not satisfy the requirements of section 17.(4) to (7);
- (f) that the subject matter of the patent extends beyond the content of the patent application as filed or, if the patent was granted on a divisional application, it extends beyond the content of the relevant earlier application as filed;

- (g) that the protection conferred by the patent has been extended by an amendment by an instrument which should not have been allowed.

(2) A revoked patent, claim or part of a claim shall be regarded as being null and void from the date of the grant of the patent.

(3) An application for the revocation of a patent shall be served on the patentee and filed with the Court in the manner and within the time prescribed.

(4) The Registrar of the High Court, if different from the Registrar of Patents, shall notify the Registrar of the final decision of the Court and the Registrar shall forthwith record it and publish a reference thereto in the Gazette.

47. Amendment of patent in infringement or revocation proceedings.

(1) Subject to subsection (5) of this section, in any proceedings before the Court in which the validity of a patent is put in issue, the Court may allow the patentee to amend the patent in such a manner, and subject to such terms as to advertising the proposed amendment and as to costs, expenses or otherwise, as the Court thinks fit.

(2) Any interested person may give notice to the Court of his or her opposition to an amendment proposed by the patentee under this section, and if he or she does so the Court shall notify the owner and consider the opposition in deciding whether the amendment should be allowed.

(3) An amendment of a description under this section shall have effect and shall always be deemed to have effect from the grant of the patent.

(4) Where an application for an order under this section is made to the Court, the applicant shall notify the Registrar who shall be entitled and be heard, and shall appear if so directed by the Court.

(5) No amendment shall be allowed under this section if it discloses matter which extends beyond that disclosed in the description of the granted patent or extends the scope of the protection conferred by the patent.

PART XII – UTILITY CERTIFICATES

48. Provisions applicable to utility certificates.

(1) The provisions in this Act relating to applications for patents or to patents shall, unless otherwise provided under this Part, be applicable to utility certificates or to utility certificate applications, as the case may be.

(2) Sections 7, 9, 24, 29, 30.(1) and 60.(a) shall not apply to utility certificate applications nor to utility certificates.

49. Qualification for utility certificate.

(1) A utility certificate may be granted only for an invention which is new and is capable of industrial application.

Revision Date: 31 Dec 2002

(2) An invention for which a utility certificate is requested shall not be considered new if it differs from earlier inventions only in minor respects or in details which are immaterial to the function or application of the invention.

50. Term of utility certificate.

A utility model certificate shall expire seven years after the filing date of its application and shall not be renewed.

51. Grounds for revocation.

(1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Court may, on the application of any interested person, revoke a utility model certificate on any of the following grounds, that is to say,

- (a) that the invention relating to the certificate is
 - (i) not new or industrially applicable; or
 - (ii) contrary to public order or morality;
- (b) that the description and claim or claims does or do not disclose the invention in a manner which is sufficiently clear and complete to permit a person having ordinary skill in the art to carry out the invention, and do not indicate at least one mode known to the applicant for carrying out the invention;
- (c) that the claim or claims does not or do not define the matter for which protection is sought;
- (d) that the claim or claims is or are not clear or concise and is or are not fully supported by the description;
- (e) that the drawings necessary for the understanding of the invention have not been filed as required under this Act; and
- (f) that the person to whom the utility model certificate has been granted is not the inventor or his or her successor in title.

(2) An application for the invalidation of a utility model certificate shall be served on the person to whom the certificate has been issued and filed with the Court in the manner and time prescribed.

(3) The Registrar of the High Court shall, unless he or she is also the Registrar of Patents, notify the Registrar of the decision of the Court to invalidate a utility model certificate and the Registrar shall forthwith record it and publish a reference in the Gazette.

52. Conversion of application.

(1) At anytime before a patent is granted or before the refusal of a patent application is notified under this Act, an applicant for a patent may, in accordance with the prescribed conditions, request that his or her application be treated as a utility certificate application.

16. Requirements as to Paper.

(1) Drawings may be made by hand or lithographed, printed, etc.

(2) They must be made on pure, white, hot-pressed, rolled, or calendered strong paper of smooth surface, good quality, and medium thickness without washes or colours, in such a way, as to admit of being clearly reproduced on a reduced scale by photography.
